RACE ANALYSIS

The card kicks off with an awesome looking maiden special weight for 2 year-old's on the turf. Several of these are first time starter, while there are some serious pedigrees in this spot. #3 Atomic Age is a first time starter that seems to have talent, while #7 West Beach is an experienced runner who they all must catch. Betting Recommendation: 0-5% of your bankroll; small wager.

1. #3 Iron Man Ira
2. #1 Leo's Reward
3. #7 Sorority Prank
4. #5 Tinebar

RACE ANALYSIS

We have another maiden special weight here, this one for older New York bred horses. #3 Iron Man Ira and #7 Sorority Pranks are the two horses with the most early speed, which is usually dangerous in these types of races over this track. #1 Leo's Reward is a first time starter, who catches a field today that looks manageable if he's good enough. Betting Recommendation: 0-5% of your bankroll; small wager.

TOP 4

2. #9 Charlie Five O
3. #7 Master of Arms
4. #4 Natural Harbor

RACE ANALYSIS

This lower level claiming event is full of decent horses, with the favorites #1 Market Alert and #1A Amundson looking beatable. This is about as evenly matched as it gets, with most of these looking like they have a chance, so playing a small exotic wager could turn into a nice score with a little bit of luck. Betting Recommendation: 0-5% of your bankroll; small wager.

TOP 4

1. #5 Speak Easy

3. #2 Kunshan Bridge
4. #3 General Banker

RACE ANALYSIS

We'll see if #5 Speak Easy can return to the races with a victory. He was sensational in his debut race at Gulfstream Park; however, he hurt himself in the post parade when preparing to run in the Fountain of Youth Stakes (G2). He is back here in a logical spot; however, he is facing older horses for the first time. That could be a challenge for him. Betting Recommendation: 10-15% of your bankroll keying #5 Speak Easy or betting a win depending on the price.

RACE ANALYSIS

Can anyone catch #4 Who's the King in this two-turn race on the dirt? That is the big question as he seems to be the lone speed today. The main track usually favors horses like this, so you can expect him to be tough to run down in the stretch with this projected trip. Betting Recommendations: 5-10% of your bankroll keying #4 Who's the King and #2 Yo Daddy or betting a win depending on the price.

RACE ANALYSIS

We saw #6 Skelly get beat last time out at Churchill Downs, which was a surprise, but he should win this one if he can bounce back. He looks to be the lone speed in the race as well, which will make him extra tough to run down in the stretch. Betting Recommendation: 10-15% of your bankroll playing #5 Subrogate and #6 Skelly in exotic plays or betting a win depending on the price.

If you like amazing pedigrees, this is the race for you. Several of these 2 year-old first time starters are regally bred, including #1 Invictus, who is the son of Serengeti Empress. Just take your pick in this one, there are so many intriguing runners, and several of these will probably go on to be stakes runners in the future. Betting Recommendation: 0-5% of your bankroll; small wager.

4. #3 Mac to Moore

RACE ANALYSIS

This looks to be a pretty fun turf sprint to open up the Pick 5. #1 Scarlet Poppy looks to be the one they have to catch, while #4 Arrasou finally gets on the turf for Chad Brown. This seems like a great race to key those two in some exotics wagers as it looks to be wide-open after those two horses. Betting Recommendation: 5-10% of your bankroll; try to combine #1 Scarlett Poppy and #4 Arrasou in an exotic wager.

RACE ANALYSIS

This is another tough turf allowance race to kick off the Pick 4. 3. #3 Batten Down
4. #2 Seize the Grey

RACE ANALYSIS

Who will be the horse to step up this week in the 3-year-old division? Even though it is a short field, the pace seems hot enough on paper for #1 Sierra Leona to make a big run. There is also the wildcard of #6 Fierceness, who is as inconsistent at they come. His best race will win here, but he is hard to trust. Betting Recommendation: 10-15% of your bankroll combining our thoughts into an exacta or trifecta play.

RACE ANALYSIS

This is the most wide-open of all the races on the card. #2 Rabaja is the favorite; however, he is not even in my top 4, and I will not be using him. It's hard to pick out just one horse to play, so an exacta or trifecta using multiple horses that we both like seems to be the right play. This one is truly a crap shoot. Betting Recommendation: 0-5% of your bankroll; small wager.

RACE ANALYSIS

The final race of the day features yet another turf race, this time for state bred maiden special weight runners. The pace looks to be extremely slow in this spot, which muddies the waters quite a bit. This will come down to which jockey can work out the best trip, which is often hard to predict. Betting Recommendation: 0-5% of your bankroll; small wager.
