Guaranteed Tip Sheet Kentucky Derby Welcome!

HOROUGHBRED

The Kentucky Derby is a part of the American fabric. During "the fastest two minutes in sports" the whole country turns its eyes to Churchill Downs in Louisville, Kentucky, to see what 3-year old horse will win the "Run for the Roses."

The Derby has been run every year since 1875 and famous horses that have won the race include Triple Crown winners Secretariat, Seattle Slew, Affirmed and most recently, American Pharoah. The 142nd running of the Kentucky Derby will be on Saturday, May 7, 2016 at approximately 6:34 p.m. (EDT).

The 1¼ mile race ran on the main dirt track is not only a spectacle; it's also an opportunity to make a wager and hopefully make a major return! This "2016 Kentucky Oaks & Derby Guide presented by Guaranteed Tip Sheet and RacingDudes.com" will give you the information needed to hopefully make that major score!

This Guide includes:

- Kentucky Derby Overview including:
 - Picks from Guaranteed Pick Sheet, Racing Dudes and Saratoga Slim
 - o Introduction
 - Post position analysis
- Horse capsules for each of the 20 projected horses in the 2016 Kentucky Derby field including:
 - Trainer, jockey, projected odds, horse running style (i.e., early speed, presser, closer)
 - Last five races including date, track, race (Graded stakes abbreviated to G1, G2 & G3 for Grade-1, Grade-2 & Grade-3), distance, finish and final Brisnet Speed Figure
 - Pros (positive angles on the horse), Cons (negative angles on the horse) and the Bottom Line
- The horse capsules are broken into five categories Win Contenders (horses to use to win or on top in exotic wagers), Can Hit the Board (horses to use in the 2nd & 3rd place slots), Exotic Plays (horses to use, but only in the 3rd or 4th place slots), Consider (horses to possibly use or toss), Tosses (horses to not include on tickets)
- Historical pace analysis including the running styles of the past 15 Kentucky Derby winners
- Late pace analysis to help pick the winner & longshots to hit the board
- Kentucky Oaks Overview with filly profiles, pace scenario and wagering approach
- Wagering strategy including trifecta, superfecta and Oaks/Derby double approach

2016 Kentucky Derby Running Styles

Turning to this year's Derby, the table below shows the Brisnet running styles for each horse expected in the 2016 Kentucky Derby (horses that are currently outside the top 20 are listed at the bottom of the table).

It should be immediately noted that two E8 horses are expected to be entered: Outwork and Danzing Candy. If they draw decent post positions (not the 1 or 2 post), there is every reason to believe that they will hook up on the front end and press each other into fast fractions.

Still, it is tough to bet on the fact that they will hook up because as we saw recently in 2014 with Wildcat Red's bobbled start that anything can happen out of the Derby starting gate. Even if they break on top, they may press each other and just fade late while horses in the second flight get the jump on the deep closers.

This second flight of horses pressing the pace will include the favorite Nyquist, who has been on or near the lead in all of his races except when he was bumped coming out of the gate in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile.

Mohaymen is a stalking type with tactical speed that will lie close to the lead, but has been headstrong in some of his races, so it's possible he'll be even close to the pace than some expect. Destin and Shagaf will look for a place to settle in this group.

The third flight of horses will have Gun Runner and Mor Spirit running steady fractions. Both will be looming throughout and will be dangerous if any of the horses in the second flight decide to go after the leaders.

A major question is where Exaggerator will sit early. As noted in his horse capsule, Exaggerator has recently changed his running style to be more off the pace and make one big run late. Earlier in his career, he had been nearer to the early pace. Most likely, Exaggerator will be at the back end of the third flight and in front of the deep closers.

They're will be no lack of one-run closers sitting back of the pack into the first turn including Creator, Tom's Ready, Mo Tom, Brody's Cause and My Man Sam. In total, 8 of the 20 runners are ranked as S-type closers. This is by far the most closers (by Brisnet ratings) entered in a Derby in the past 8 years.

Of these, Whitmore has the ability show early speed and should be flanking Exaggerator at the back of the third flight. Brody's Cause also may be more forwardly placed in this back group.

Predicting the 2016 Kentucky Derby Pace:

Predicting a fast pace in this year's Derby is totally contingent upon both Outwork and Danzing Candy drawing good post positions, breaking well and dueling early. If this happens, a "pace meltdown" may occur and allow mid-pack horses and closers to get up in the final strides to hit the board.

The most likely outcome in the race is that Outwork and Danzing Candy will fade after setting a moderate to fast pace and not be involved in the race late.

A moderate to fast pace is a likely outcome because of the correlation of E8 horses in past Derbies. An all-out blazing fast pace is not likely, though, since in this Derby points system era, pure sprinters are not making the gate and speeding up the pace. The past two years have been very slow paces, but also had a lack of pure E8 horses. This year's pace should not be as fast as the sprinter-induced paces of past years, but should be faster than the past two-years when E8 types were not prevalent.

With a moderate to fast pace expected, horses that have shown the capability to be near the pace, stalk and pounce late may be the top candidates to win the Derby in this new point system paradigm, just like California Chrome and American Pharoah the past two years.

The next section will evaluate how middle and late pace can be used to identify these horses that can put in a long, sustained runs to win the Derby or hit the board at long odds making your day, month or year of wagering.

Late Pace Key to Picking Derby Winner & Longshots

THOROUGHBRED

Picking the Kentucky Derby winner and longshot is a part of American folklore. Hollywood movies have been based on the Derby longshot including the movie "50 to 1" about the aforementioned 2009 Kentucky Derby winner Mine that Bird.

The Derby longshot cannot be picked haphazardly, though. Unlike 2015 when the top echelon of 3 year olds separated themselves from the pack including American Pharaoh, Dortmund, Firing Line and Frosted, this year the winners of the Derby preps have been more widespread. The chance for a "bomb" to take the top win spot is still difficult to predict, but there is plenty of money to be made picking the right horses underneath in exotic wagers like the exacta, trifecta and superfecta.

In the past 7 years including the 50-1 longshot Mine That Bird in 2009, a total of seven horses with odds of more than 20-1 have finished in the top four of the Kentucky Derby. Six of these seven horses came off the pace to close into their final position as can be seen in the table below (only Shackleford in 2011 was on or near the lead and faded to 4th to hit the superfecta at long odds):

| Year | Horse Name | Position at 1/2 Mile | Finish | Derby Odds |
|------|-------------------|----------------------|-----------------|---------------|
| 2009 | Mine That Bird | 19 th | 1 st | 50.6 |
| 2010 | Make Music for Me | 20 th | 4 th | 30 |
| 2011 | Animal Kingdom | 12 th | 1 st | 20.9 |
| 2011 | Shackleford | 1 st | 4 th | 23 |
| 2012 | Went The Day Well | 17 th | 4 th | 30.6 |
| 2013 | Golden Soul | 15 th | 2 nd | 35.4 |
| 2014 | Commanding Curve | 18 th | 2 nd | 37.8 |

Spotting these horses as they progress during the Derby prep races is the key to picking the longshot. Horses coming into the Derby in top form from their final prep have shown to be the most successful. To prove this point, a full chart of the top four finishers in the past seven Kentucky Derbies are shown in the table below with their final prep and speed figures (courtesy of Brisnet):
