The Preakness Stakes, the second jewel of the Triple Crown, is run between the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont Stakes. Called "The Run for the Black-Eyed Susans," the Preakness is held at Pimlico Race Course in Baltimore on the third Saturday of each May. First run in 1873, the race is competed at a distance of 1 3/16 miles, 1/16 of a mile shorter than the Kentucky Derby, for 3-year-olds on the main dirt track.

After the controversial Kentucky Derby DQ, we won't see either Maximum Security or eventual Derby winner Country House at Pimlico. However, the race is full of contenders, making it an excellent betting race.

This Inside Track to the Preakness Stakes is a combination of some of the best handicapping forces in the country. The Racing Dudes have been at it for years, offering handicapping picks and analysis daily for over 7 years. This year, all hands are on deck. Racing Dudes Aaron and Jared have studied these Preakness Stakes contenders for months, while Mike Somich has also been busy at work. Somich is known for his massive multi-race scores. He is fairly new to the team, but is already making many fans, with his Pick 4 and Pick 5 analysis and picks.

And a special bonus this year, Jonathon Kinchen will be contributing to this Inside Track to the Preakness Stakes! Jonathon was the 2015 NHC Tour champion and remains the only player in NHC history to have both of his entries qualify for The Final Table. Jonathon's work has been seen with DRF, as well as more recently on Fox Sports. You can also check out the In The Money Players' Podcast, which he does with tournament expert Peter T. Fornatale.
